Experience

Tim has worked with Zartman Construction since 1988 starting as a laborer and has worked his way up to his current position.

Tim is a crucial member of the management team who oversees all of the field operations plus the equipment and rental divisions. He has taken Zartman's equipment and rental divisions to the next level and has spearheaded a new showroom for the small tool rental division. His hands-on approach to management has ensured smooth operations are business as normal.
